

Mark E. Johnson's Lion's Share Growth Investing 08/29/20 Bringing innovative companies to light

Market Breadth remains negative for the last 9 days. The 63-year forecast/roadmap is negative for August and September. The S&P 500 Index, our proxy for the overall market, closed Friday with a Small Bullish Line Candle at 3,508.01. We are seeing many negative divergences with the current pricing of the SPX and still looking for pullback. There are no new growth stocks to buy for next week.

Regards,

Mark
